Father's Day a Particular Struggle for Bereaved Parent

By Cathi Lammert

Often times, Mother's Day and Father's Day are two of the most difficult days for bereaved parents. Some have told me that these days are so painful that they are not able to even acknowledge them for their own mom or dad, and they celebrate with their parents on a different day. Over the years, parents have looked at me with tear-filled eyes and asked me, "Am I really a parent if my baby is not here with me?"

The answer, of course, is yes. I equate parenthood with love, the greatest kind of love. Does love stop when a baby dies? Of course not! You will always be your child/ren's parent. No one can take this role away from you. You may question whether you want to celebrate or be remembered on these days, but a parent's love needs to be acknowledged and celebrated.

If you can't imagine joining the rest of the world in the typical activities of celebration, do something different or not at all. But also know, that even without your precious baby in your arms, you are parents and parenthood can be celebrated as you choose. Whatever you choose to do on these days, know that it is okay if it feels right to you.

The following suggestions are some ways to celebrate your parenthood on these difficult days:

- Acknowledge that you are parents.
- Be gentle with yourselves. Do only what you can handle. Acknowledge that this day could be difficult, and determine how you can comfortably spend the day.
- Alert yourself to the most difficult challenges of the day, such as attention given to moms and dads at church. Some parents have talked to their clergy about the importance of recognizing all parents at these celebrations.
- Family gatherings may make you feel uncomfortable. Discuss this with your family and let them know that you appreciate their love and support, but that you may not be able to attend or manage your composure throughout the entire day. Assure them that these feelings will not last forever.
- Plan ahead. Waiting until the last minute can cause frustration and hurt feelings.
- Share with family and friends how they can help make your day a special one. Sometimes they need specific suggestions, such as sending you a card, flowers, or a donation to Share or another favorite charity in your baby's name.

- Treat yourselves to a special gift, an outing, or flowers. Send each other cards for these special days. Remember your baby by lighting a candle, placing a rose on the alter or dinner table, or planting a tree or bush.

It is important to tell others what you need. Do not assume that everyone will be aware of how you are feeling on these days. Being aware in advance that certain situations may be difficult, such as family gatherings or church services, allows you the opportunity to plan accordingly. If you've been asked to do something that makes you uncomfortable, listen to your heart. For some, spending the day in bed with the covers pulled up, or on the couch watching movies, might be the right thing.

Be sensitive to your own feelings and needs, and above all, know that you are parents.

Kansas HB 2454, the Infant Mortality Bill passed the Legislature this spring.

House Bill 2454 will allow Kansas to collect the data it needs to address our state's high infant mortality rate. To reduce infant mortality, Kansas needs to provide statutory authority to the Kansas Department of Health & Environment that will allow the agency to collect and analyze information from Kansas families about infant deaths that are factored in the state's infant mortality rate. Having access to more comprehensive data will provide community leaders and policymakers in Kansas with the information they need to make informed decisions to reduce the rate of infant mortality in Kansas.

Specifically, the bill will authorize the Secretary of KDHE to permit the use of birth, death, and still birth certificates as identifiable data for purposes of maternal and child health surveillance and monitoring. The bill will also authorize the Secretary of KDHE to interview individuals for purposes of maternal and child health surveillance, monitoring, and support.

Kansas HB 2356, the Child Care Bill also passed the Legislature this spring.

House Bill 2356 "Lexie's Law" will improve the safety and quality of child care in Kansas. The bill will require the Kansas Department of Health and Environment to inspect every child care facility once every 15 months. The bill will require KDHE to establish new rules and regulations to address sanitation issues, after hour care, sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS) and safe sleep practices training, crib safety, and other safety precautions. Along with expanded inspections the Kansas

Department of Health and Environment will have the opportunity to provide training on safe sleep and education for the safety and well-being of children in child care.

Federal Bill S1445/HR 3212, The Stillbirth & SUID Prevention, Education, & Awareness Act will expand current activities related to stillbirth and increase education and awareness among health care providers and families.

Every year, there are more than 25,000 stillbirths in the United States. In addition, there are more than 4,600 sudden unexpected infant deaths each year and another 200 children between the ages 1 and 4 die without any obvious cause for their death. Many such tragedies could be prevented if there were a better understanding of the reasons why these infants and children died. The Stillbirth and SUID Prevention, Education, and Awareness Act encourages states to complete scene investigations to better understand why these children died and establishes a national database to track these deaths and identify risk factors to prevent them in the future.

The Stillbirth and SUID Prevention, Education, and Awareness Act is the single largest movement towards the end of these tragedies that our country has ever seen. Please "take action" by contacting your federal representatives and urge them to support and co-sponsor this important act of legislation today!

For more information about current SIDS legislation please go to sidsks.org.

Mark your calendars

7th Annual Step Up for SIDS

At 10 a.m. on Saturday, April 17, 2010 the Cobb family, stepping in memory of their son and brother, Kody, kicked off the 7th Annual Step Up for SIDS with a memorial walk around Cessna Stadium. With a record 429 steppers, 134 volunteers and a vast array of corporate sponsors Step Up raised over $27,000, which will remain in Kansas to support the Network's mission to provide grief services, community awareness and support medical research efforts.

Thank you to the 2010 Step Up committee: Patty Calderon-Cordoba, Jessica Schmidt, Pete Sargent, Linda Hall, Tracey McNeely, Tonya Rose, and Lindsay Suderman. Thanks for your hours of work.

We are honored to have the opportunity to collaborate with such athletic and philanthropic community members to support the SIDS Network of Kansas. A heartfelt thanks to all the steppers, volunteers and sponsors. We couldn't have done it without you.

This was the first year for the Step Up for SIDS 5k race.
